KNIGHT '77
EASTERN DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

To Our Graduates

You are graduating during a period of great excitement in our nation. A new President and his administration promise hope and change for all Americans. The United States is beginning its third century of existence as a nation. All around you, there are signs of a reviving economy and of new purpose in government, business, and personal living.

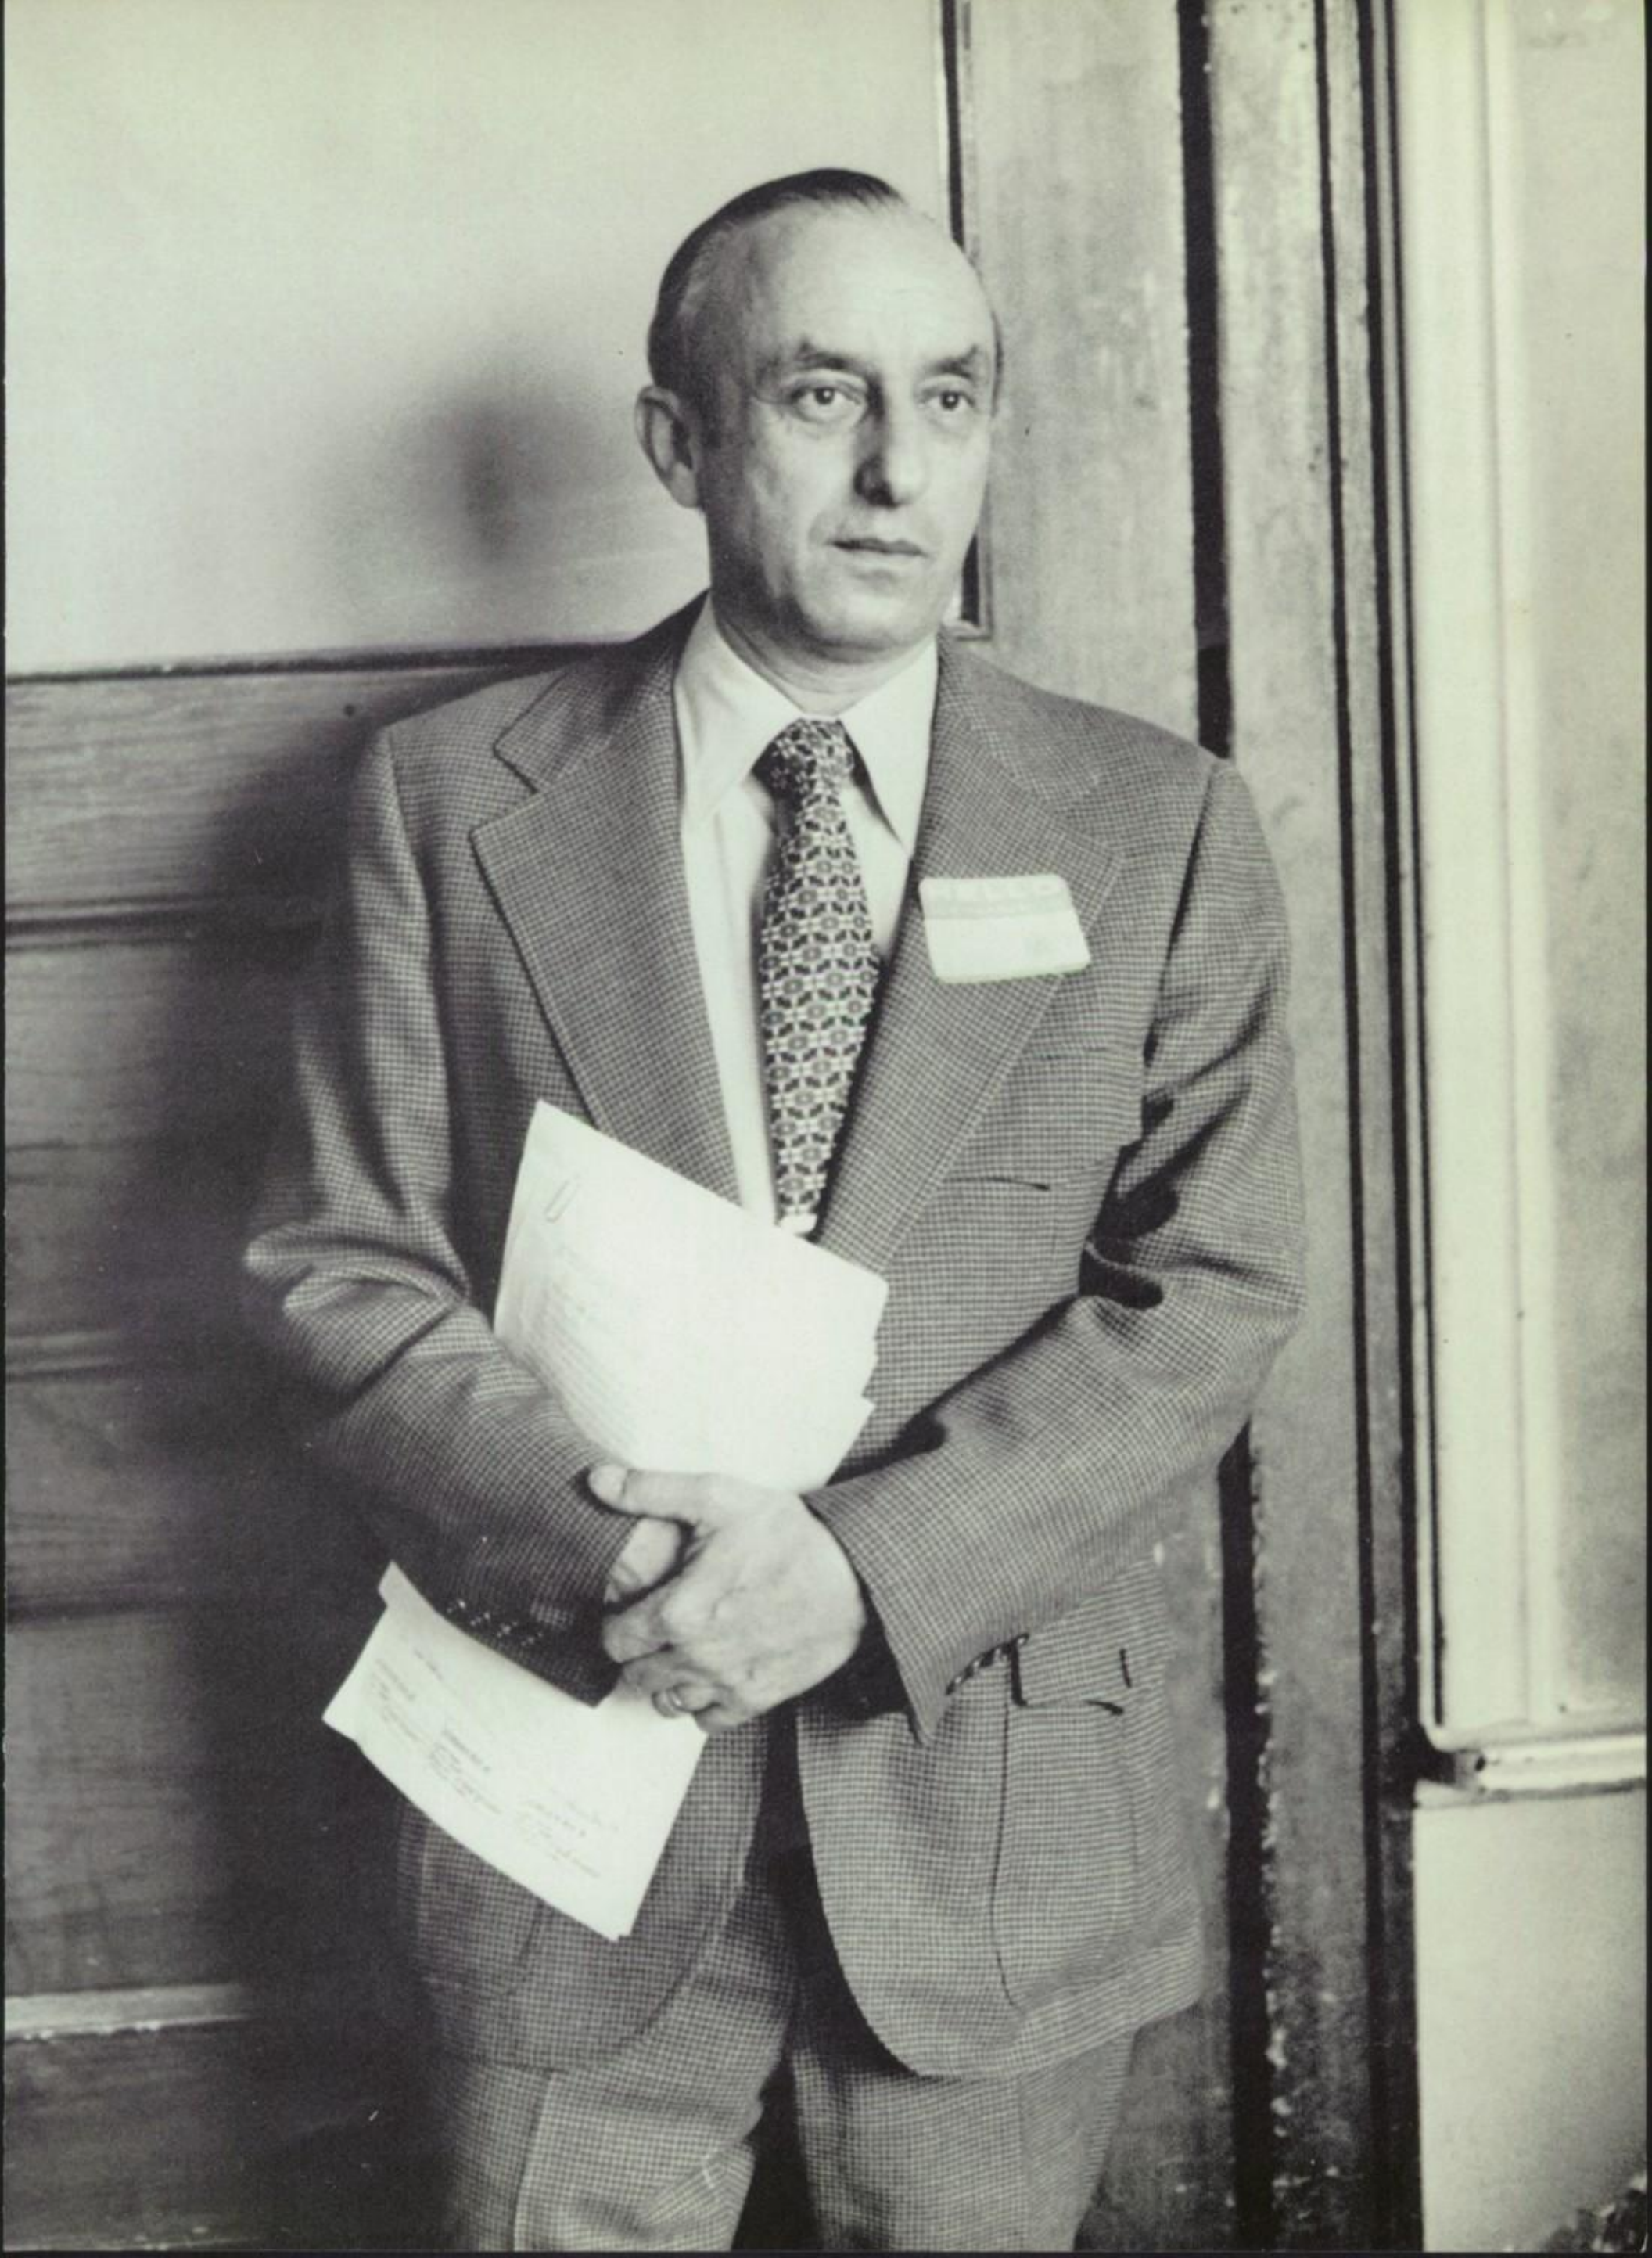

And yet, all is not perfect. You must be experiencing some doubts about where you fit into this picture. You know that you have choices to make, and that none of these choices will be easy. Should you continue your education in college or in a vocational field, or should you go out and look for a job? Should you enlist in the Armed Forces, or should you remain a civilian? Should you marry, and start a family of your own, or should you remain single? These, and many other choices, lie ahead for you.

Out there in the post-high school world, some difficult questions await you too. Will our nation's economy be able to provide you with the opportunity you seek? Will our city of New York get out of the doldrums and become, once again, the magic city of opportunity and achievement? Will you, a product of an urban school and a challenging neighborhood, be able to make it in the outside world?

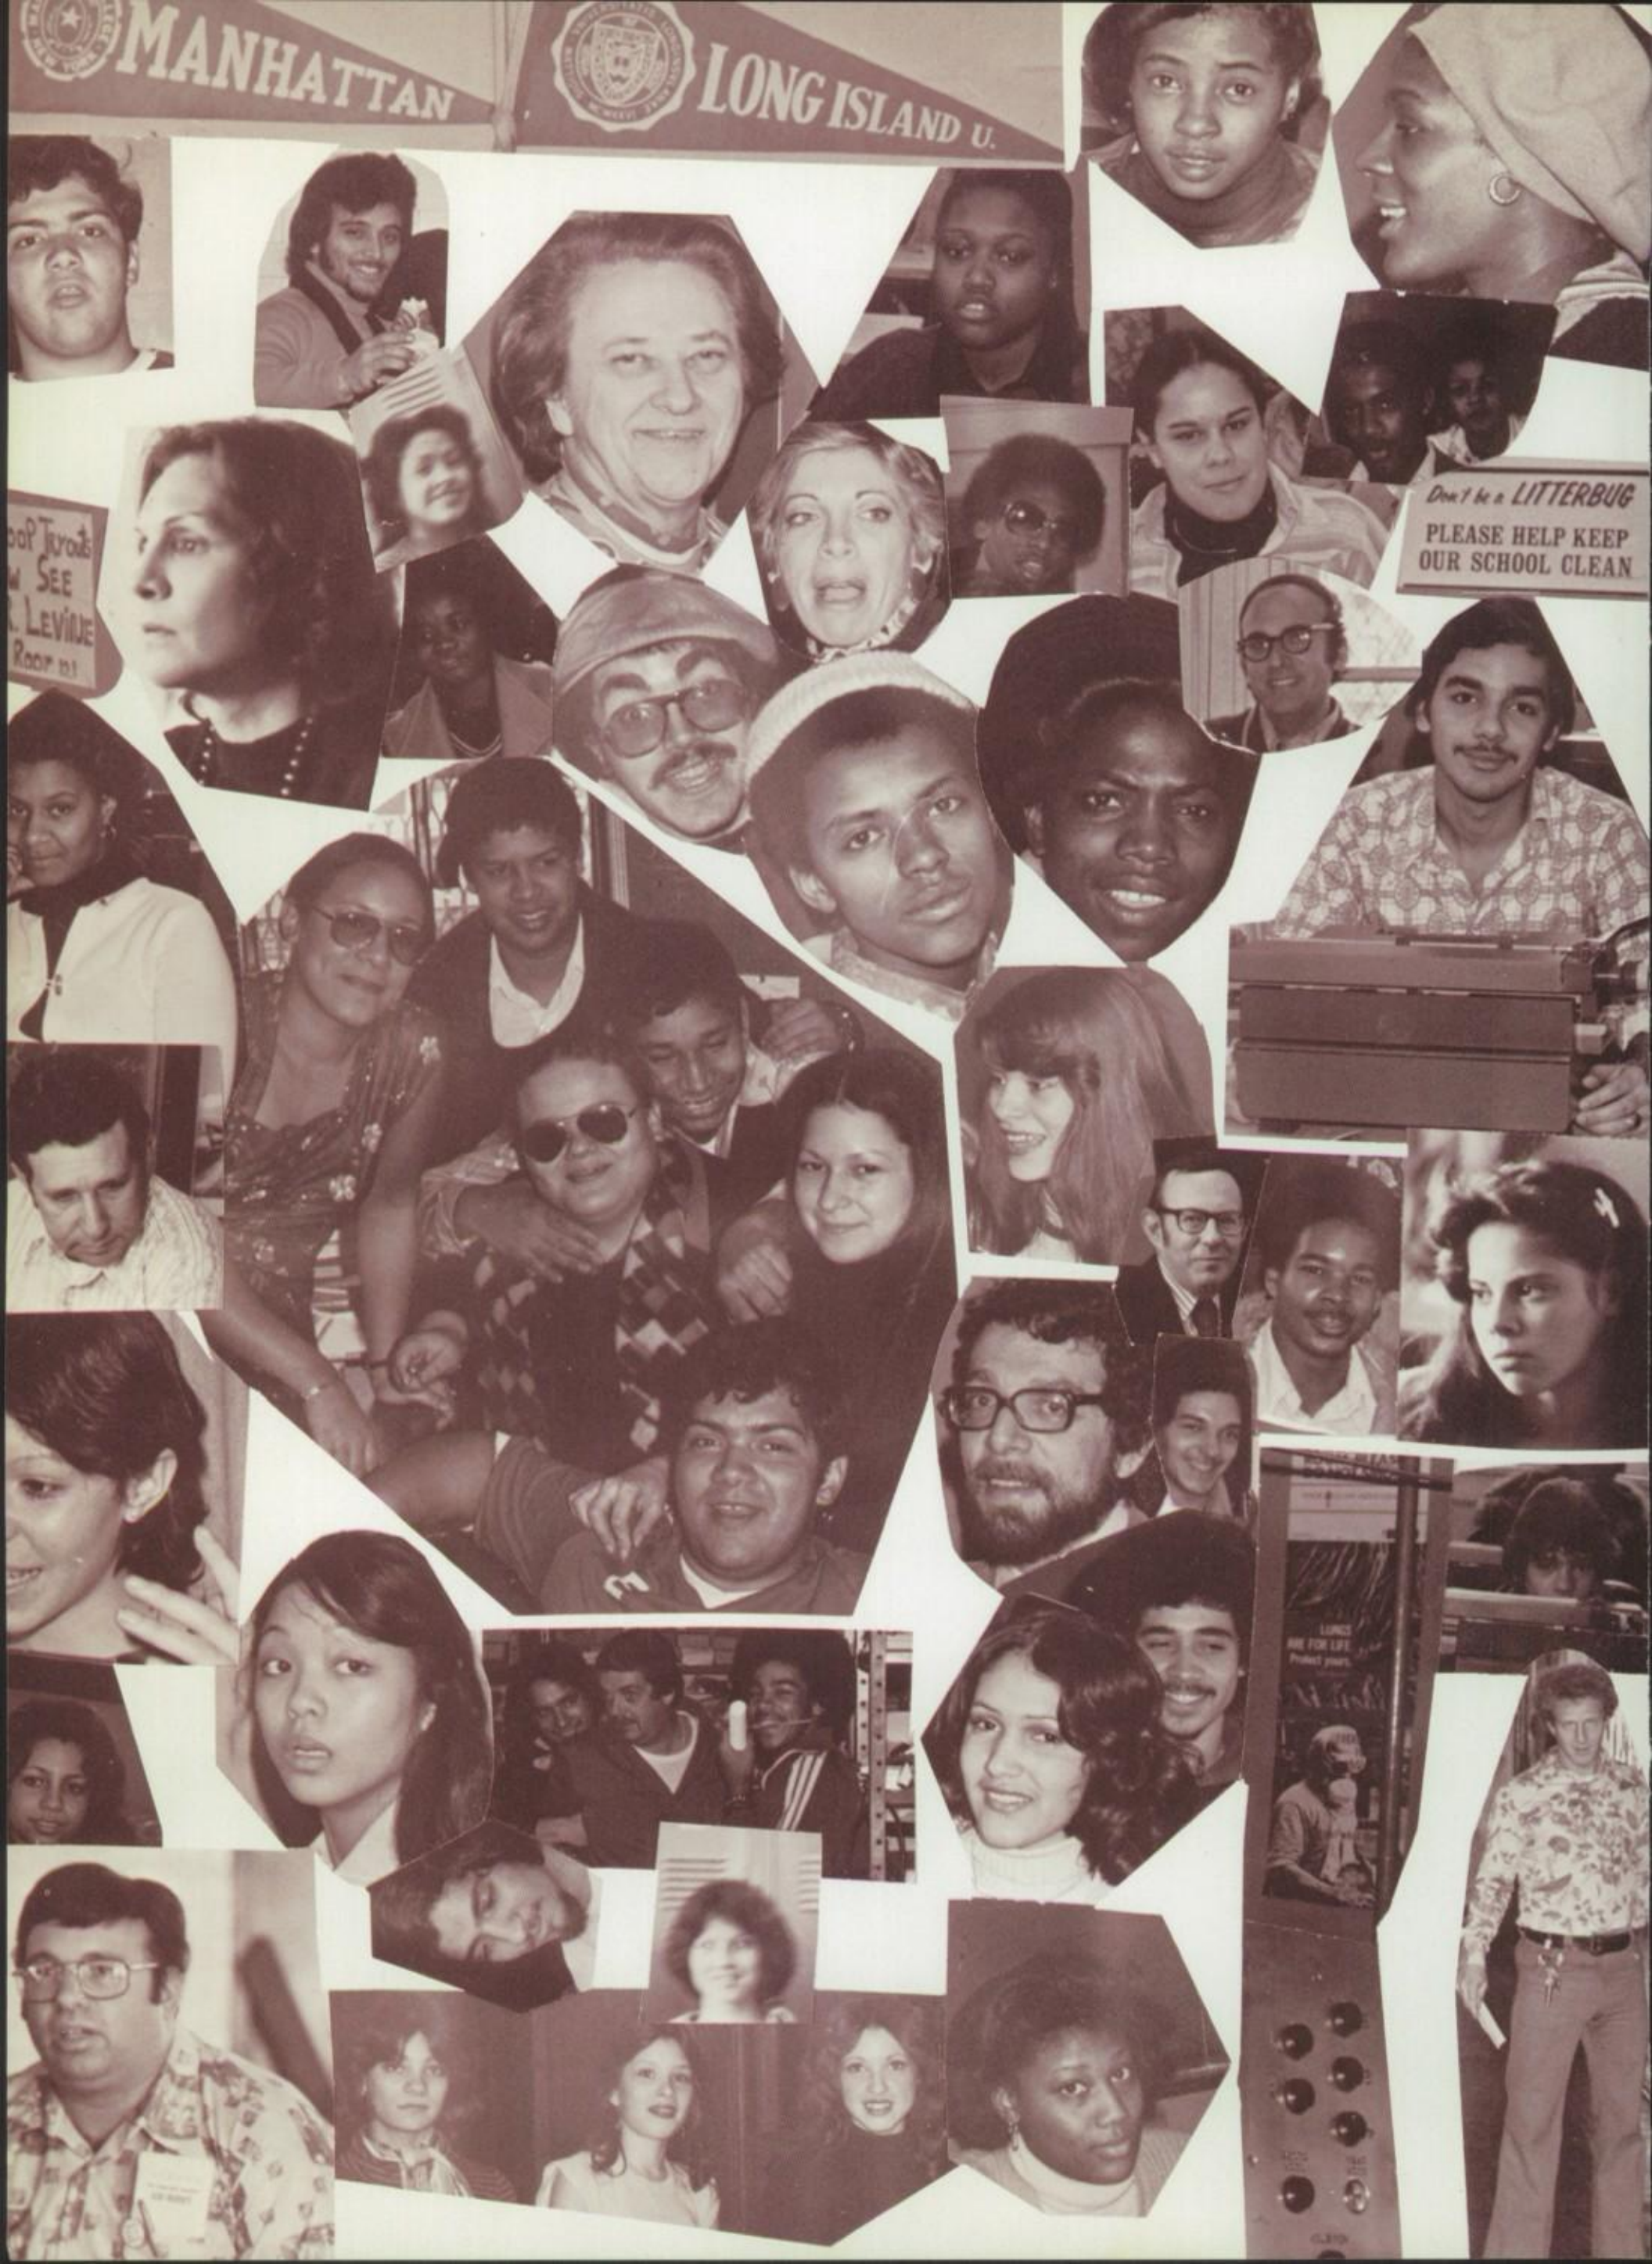

Neither you, your parents, nor your teachers know the answers. We do know, however, that you are graduating from Eastern District High School as respected members of an outstanding graduating class. We know that you have proven yourselves to be capable and mature, reliable and productive. We have tremendous faith in you and in your capacity to develop. Besides all of this, we think you are pretty wonderful people.

Keep trying, keep working; keep your sense of hope and of humor; and maintain that pride in who you are and where you come from.

Acknowledgements

We, the seniors 77, have now achieved a goal for which we have been striving for about four years. There are many memories of times shared with our teachers and classmates. Now most of these memories will be kept for us in Eastern District's 77 yearbook. In the future we will be able to look back and say we were there in the beginning and we made it successfully to the end.

But we have to remember that without help this yearbook would not be ours. Without the help of Mr. Irving Schwartz who gave his time and skill to our senior class, there would be no yearbook. We also give thanks to Mr. George Rubens of Lorstan Studios, Mr. Ron Weinman of American Yearbook, Mr. Mann, Mr. Singer. And all others who gave their help to the seniors.

Finally we would like to congratulate and send out greatest wishes to our Senior Class Of '77.

GRADUATES

Dear Fellow Graduates:

WE'VE COME A LONG WAY!

As we walk down the aisle, think not only of yourselves but also of those who have made it happen for you! Teachers, Friends, Classmates, think of those who have made your goal, possible and have educated you, so that you can teach what you have learned to someone else. Help the one's that are left behind you.

Let your education be your guide to a better future for all mankind.
Help human-kindness stand out among all of us.

Congratulations,

IN RETROSPECT

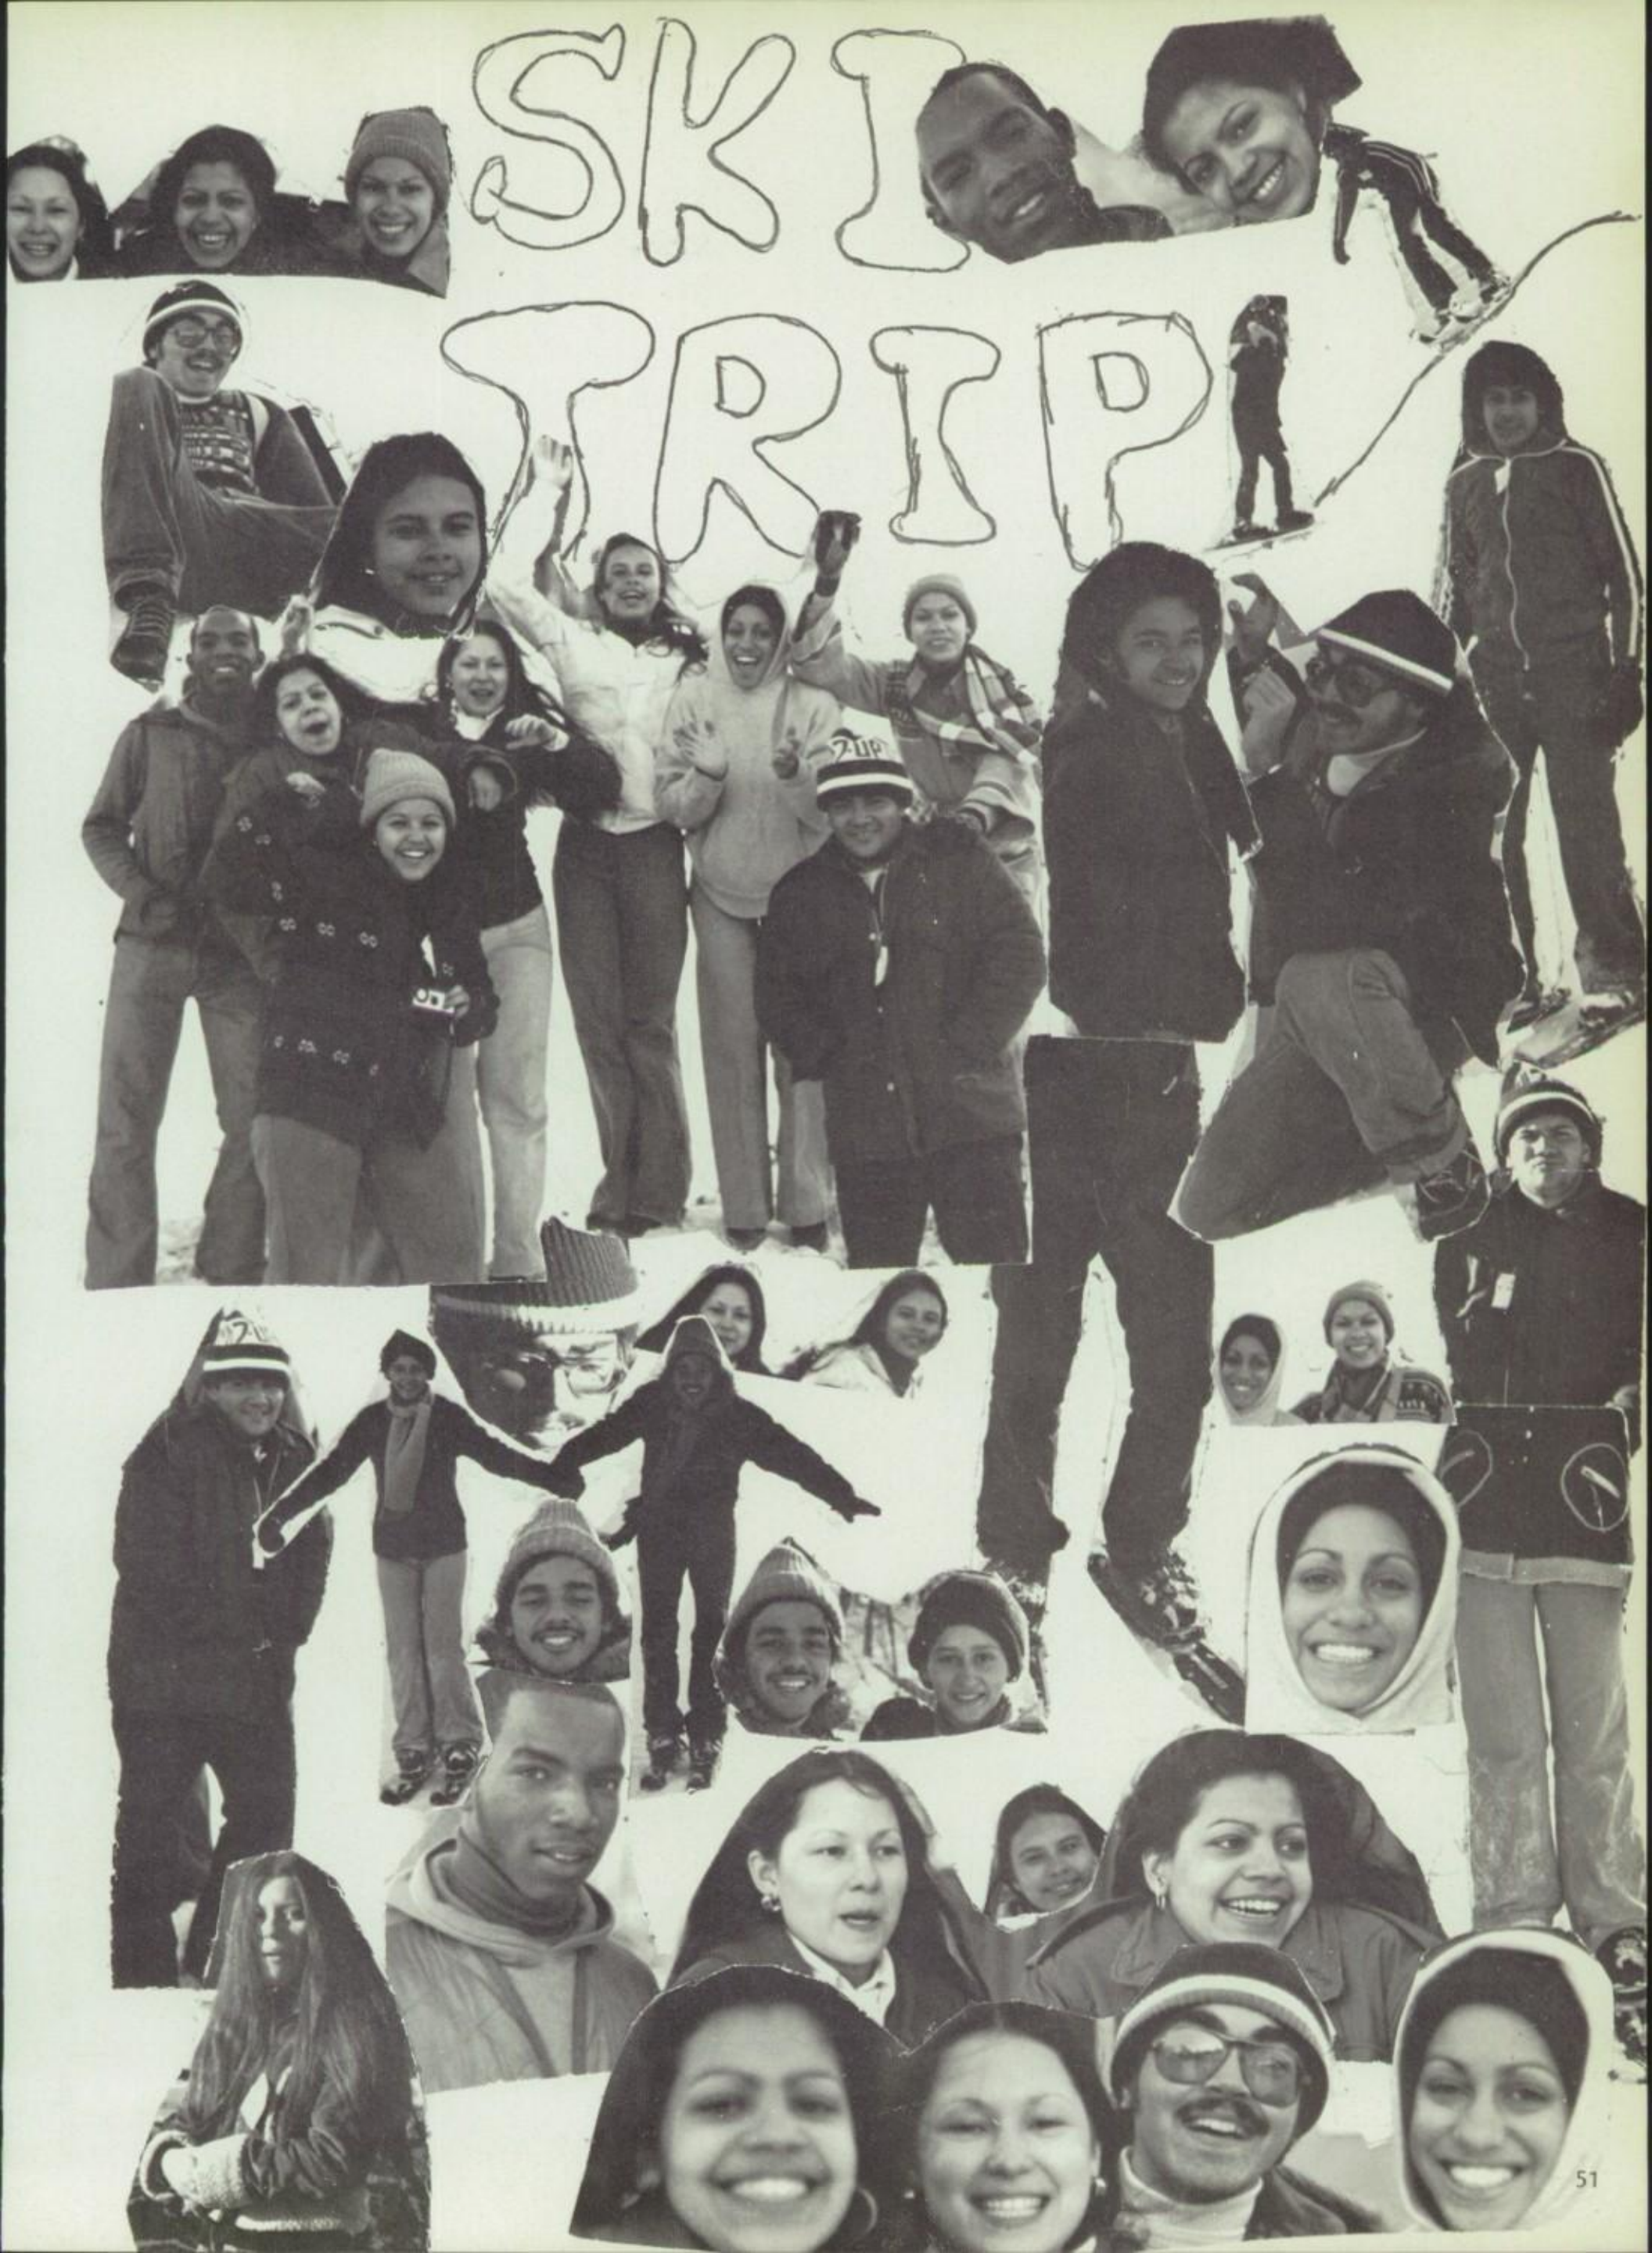

When we first came to Eastern District we were young, wild and free. We had no idea what would happen within the next four years nor did we care.

Now we have matured and we are the future and we have inside us a feeling of caring because this year nineteen seventy-seven we will make a big step into a new life. Some of us will go off to college; some may find jobs; some may start families of their own; although others will probably wander around, doing the things they long to do, nevertheless, we are stepping forward into a world with many opportunities. We are now young adults, we are able to speak up and not just be seen.

From this moment on we will hope and pray that we will make it successfully in our new life. If we should or should not make it to that very special goal, one day we will look in retrospect and remember all the good and bad experiences. Some may make us cry; others may have us laughing, but one will always make us think back when we made that big step forward.

ALONE AGAIN NATURALLY

I was her all alone when you walked up to me.
I held you tightly in my arms.
Running my fingers through your hair though we had just met.
We were lovers.
(We shared almost everything)
With our introduction still fresh,
but like time
Our love just passed us by.
I was there all alone. Our disputes had been forgotten, and in my mind so were you.
When you lifted me into your life again
to chance the world,
Like a mere child running bravely through the woods,
I fell deeply into the fox hole.
Fortunately I got out
Only to Realize it was my second time.
I began to wonder, the cause and the reason Why and how a man like you could hurt, some one who I found you only pretend to love.
I'm here alone naturally
Waiting for you to try again
Though I still love you, yet when you arrive I have a lil' something for you that will make your heart bleed dry.

At first you came into my life
Exploring my mind, leaving my body for last.
We alauged, and played and we loved it all
(So we say)
We gave each other all that we had Sharing our likes and dislikes
You and I were in love with ourselves
(So we say)
We talked, we argued, and I cried
While you tried to make me feel happy
There'd never be a day when we'd say good-bye
(So we say)
Weak, full of disputes, one day pleasure and the next day pain.
We can't see each other because of the rain.
(So we say)

WHY?

As I sit here all day,
I listen to the music play,
and all I can hear and see is you.
I think of the moment we touched.
I felt your warmth, and your love.
It was like holding a golden dove.
Then as life passes me by,
all I do is sit and wonder WHY?
Why do I sit here this while,
when all I have to do is dial?
Dial your phone and ask if you're home?
We would talk about the problems in life,
we would speak about the moments we had so nice.
Then I would ask you, "Why"?
That's when we'll say good-bye.
Then I'll sit on my chair again and listen to the same song over and over again.
Then I'll say, "Why do I sit here everyday and waste my life away?
Why as these days pass by,
all I listen to is to kiss and say Good-bye.

Jose Zayas

MY ISLAND, OUR ISLAND

I think of you as the island which I want to find.

Conceived of both beauty and love
combined.

The island on which I want to live,
to leave the world behind.

The island untouched, unharmed, unknown
by all of mankind.

I want you to come live on the island,
and be mine.

It will be our island, home, and land
combined.

Jose A. Zayas

WHAT IS LOVE

I have often wondered what love is. If love is wanting to be with a person day and night and the nearness of that person makes you want to reach out and touch him; if love is giving all you can give and never expecting anything in return, then I know if love is all these things, I love you.

Join the people who are earning and learning in today's Army.

Want to get a great start making it in a rough world? Today's Army has more good jobs to fill than anybody. Hundreds of good, steady jobs, so we make the job-hunting easy. And we'll give you the training and experience you need to get the job provided you qualify. We've got the job-training courses, taught by excellent instructors with the finest equipment available. Then, the skill you learn is yours to keep for a lifetime. Or perhaps you'd prefer a chance to work and live overseas. Pick the three stamps that interest you most . . . let him tell you more about those fields. Today's Army could be your best move for a lot of good reasons. The Mistake

Took you for my dreams come true and you tore my heart in two.
I devote my time, and you blew my mind. My mistake was to let you replace the one I should have loved in the first place. My original mate.
Now its too late for I too have been replaced.

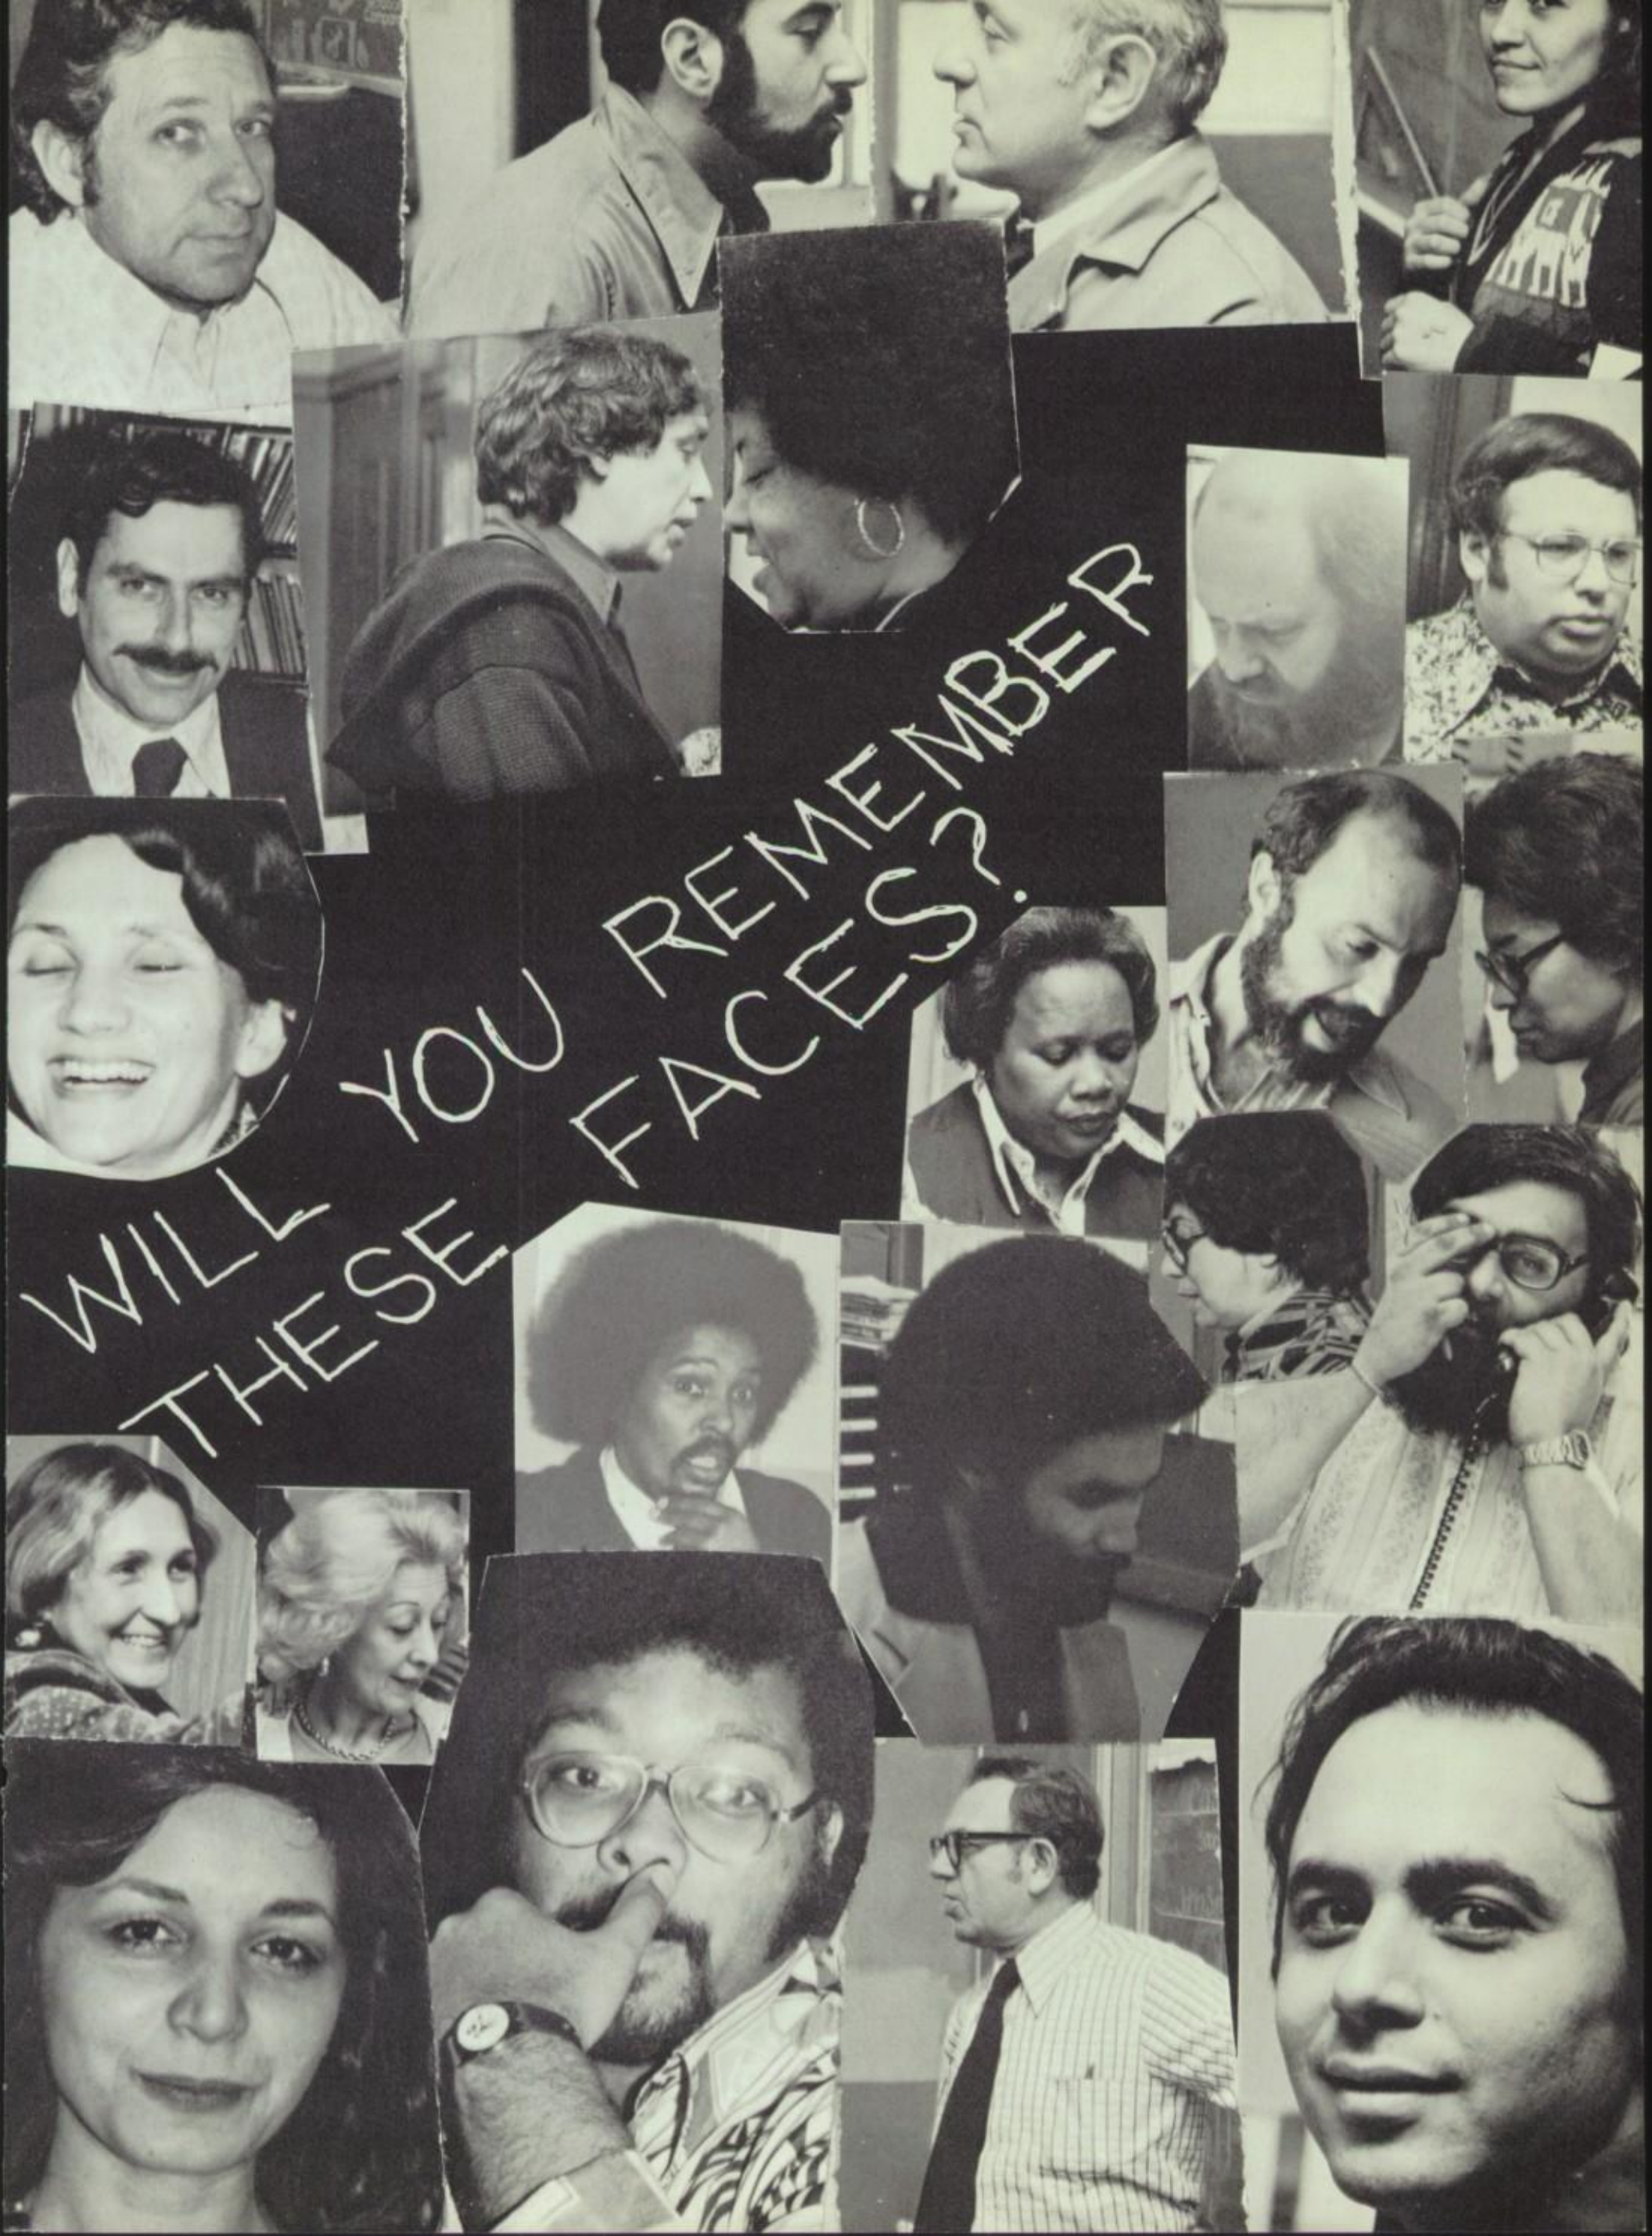

Sam Canty Jr.

New York

New York's the funky place you can hustle in a hundred places, or live fairy tales a million ways.
New York, Baby, gives you your choice,
In everything.
New York's the funky place to shake your body.
A low down place, that's for sure.
The best disco in the United States,
the devil woman.
still the one.

Sonia Soto

The time in our lives has come for us to acknowledge the fact that we are now graduating. During our stay at Eastern many of us have felt that things were just too hard or we just couldn't put up with things for one reason or another. But this is all going to be the past in our lives because we have our graduation to help us compensate. But I am sure this will be only the first achievement of many future successes in our long lives.

Even though our lives ahead might be different, we will have shared dull, bright, unhappy & delightful moments in our lives. This book will try to recall some of these memories of E.D.H.S. So be proud of yourselves.

We of the yearbook staff bid every senior farewell, and express our sincerest thanks and appreciations to our teacher's and those who have reached out to give us a hand and lead us to this momentous occasion.

But most of all let us say GOODBYE to old
